The Honorable Richard E. Neal
Ranking Member, House Ways and Means Committee
House of Representatives
1139-E Longworth House Office Building

Dear Chairman Brady and Ranking Member Neal:

As Congress looks to address a series of important health care policy issues this year, we, the undersigned groups representing employers and employees, urge you to include some modest but important policy changes concerning the treatment of Health Savings Accounts (HSAs) in legislation that will make it to the President’s desk this year.

More than 177 million Americans receive their health insurance through their employer. There are now 20 million Americans covered by HSAs, with significant growth of 13 percent in 2015 and 20 percent in 2016. Consumer demand for increased HSA offerings is likely to continue to increase, and as such, statutory reforms are needed to accommodate medical advances and ensure that HSAs work well for patients and their families.

The proposals listed below have been introduced in a variety of legislative measures and each has bipartisan cosponsors and support from a broad spectrum of industry and consumer stakeholder groups. As the workplace transforms to meet new trends – ranging from wellness incentives to delivery of benefits – we encourage you to include HSA reforms in end-of-year legislation so that employees can proactively engage in improving their health. These reforms include:

- Greater flexibility to offer first-dollar coverage of health services at an onsite employee clinic and retail health clinic;
- Clarifying that “excepted benefits,” which are non-major medical benefits like telehealth and second opinion services, do not jeopardize a beneficiary’s eligibility to contribute to an HSA;
- Correcting the definition of "dependents" to include adult children, domestic partners, and non-traditional dependents;
- Greater flexibility to offer first-dollar coverage of services and medications for chronic disease prevention;
- Streamlining conversion from a Medical Savings Account (MSA), Flexible Spending Arrangement (FSA), or Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) to an HSA;
- Permitting the use of HSA dollars toward wellness benefits, including exercise and other expenses associated with the sole purpose of participating in physical activity;
• Clarifying that direct primary care arrangements are not insurance and may be offered alongside an HSA; and
• Permitting an employee to contribute to an HSA even if his or her spouse has a health Flexible Spending Account.

As representatives excited about the gains employers have made to enhance coverage for their employees, we see the promise of these proposed changes first-hand. The workplace has been a continuous source of innovation as benefits and coverage policies adapt to new delivery models while promoting better health practices and containing costs.

We look forward to working with you to reduce these barriers and expand the use of HSAs for employees and employers. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
