

MUST-HAVE TECH

for Faculty Hiring at Your Higher Education Institution

Search committee

Multiple perspectives, privacy obligations, and endless evaluation. You know the drill. Make sure your system allows for a diverse committee, online and offline feedback, and that outside parties can be a part of the search. PageUp offers these components along with the added benefit of bulk compiling applicants to PDF.

Unlimited files

Faculty applicants have huge portfolios that come in many shapes and sizes. The last thing you want to do restrict is their ability to show off their accomplishments. PageUp allows unlimited file sizes and types to be uploaded to the system, so you can check that off your list!

Recommendations

It's important to receive open feedback from your colleagues. Nominate, request, and review completely confidential Letters of Recommendation automatically within the PageUp platform and inline with your recruitment process.

Advertising

You have a job opening and a well-thought out position description. What happens next? PageUp lets you post to multiple job sites in one sitting. If that's not enough, pull a Sourcing Effectiveness Report to determine the channel you're getting the most ROI from.

Workflows

Do you require specific workflows by department or search? The PageUp platform allows the unique requirements of faculty to be seamlessly supported across as many workflows as you need—including Recruitment and Performance.

Proactive sourcing

RIP to the "post and pray" method of acquiring talent. Identify, engage, and market to a pipeline of quality candidates before a job is even available through PageUp's Candidate Relationship Management (CRM) tool. Internal, external, and passive candidates at the ready!

Simple rehiring

It's hard to keep track of staff, let alone the rehiring of adjunct faculty, but it's easier when all activity happens in one place. With PageUp, you can review real-time reports, timesheets, contracts, and even assignment expiration. Simplify the rehire process and create offer letters straight from the system!

Mobile

Because you're never not on the go, be mobile anywhere, anytime. Wherever you are, reach applicants, hiring managers, and approvers directly through PageUp's cloud technology. As for candidates? They can easily and confidentially apply end-to-end through mobile, too!
